What is Haiku?

Haiku is the world's shortest poem.

Haiku was first written over 400 years ago.

Haiku is written by over 1 million Japanese.

Haiku originated in Japan but is now written in every country in the world.

Haiku when written in Japanese has 17 syllables.

Haiku when written in English usually has less than 17 syllables.

Haiku is written in 3 lines.

Haiku is about nature.

Haiku always mentions the season.

Haiku involves the senses: sight, sound, smell, taste, touch, and movement.

Haiku is always in the present—it is what is happening right here now.

Haiku does not use big words.

Haiku combined with a drawing or photograph is called haiga.

Haiku without a season word is called a senryu and is about human nature.

Haiku is a snapshot using words.

Haiku means “funny or unusual lines.”

Haiku is wabi-sabi.

Haiku is a moment that makes you say: “Aha.”

Haiku has 34,500,000 hits on Google.

ANGELA'S HAIKU

outside the business school workers take a break

Halloween windstorm planes and witches grounded

his rubber boots left out in the rain
he asks for a refill

I tell her white hair suits her autumn rain

prize pumpkins—he tells me
I don't measure up

geese on the lake
I sink
into a warm bath fly and I rubbing our hands cold house

through exhaust fumes
a lone cyclist's white breath

in deep thought she wades
in the shallow end

fading light
I count the buds on the Christmas cactus

Christmas Eve-
Snuggled in bed waiting to Hear the Sleigh bells

Candy-
My basket's full
With chocolate

Sweet candy-
Chips and chocolate
Treats

Wind-Trees down
Leaves cover the Ground

Power down-
Tv closed
Lights out getting Chilly

Haunted house-
Frightening masks and costumes Darkness

Grandma's baby-
Cake and candles
Presents and hugs smiles

Snowy day-Streets are covered in the white Stuff

Christmas Eve-
Snuggled in bed
Waiting to hear the sleigh Bells

My birthday day-
Turning 14 year old
Being happy

Movie night-Ate popcorn
Very full Can't sleep

Winter break-
Stay home eat
Opens gifts

Ate popcorn
Very full Can't sleep

Winter break-
Stay home eat
Opens gifts

Bed is warm
The sound of wind
It's cold

Autumn wind-
The color leafs
The moon is hidden

Class field trip-
Very noisy
Snow is falling

Silence-
Its snowy
Warm hot chocolate

Moon-grey
The light in the sky

Winter-
beautiful day
The sound of falling snow

Build snowman-
Change of mood
Sky is dark

Fall-Rain
It is very grey

First snow-
Very cold
In a cosy blanket

Bed is warm
The sound of wind
It's cold

Winter-
It's drizzling snow Hair is all wet

gvid

I eat Hotdog-
And french fries

The loud boy
Wearing a-Red t shirt

I eat a Hot dog-
And french fries

There is A bird-
On a Tree

The teacher brought - a pumpkin

There is A giraffe -
Eating Leaves

The leaves
Is red
And green

The people Are going trick or treat-a bag full of candy

The kids
Are in costume
In a haunted house

A red
Bird Flying
In the sky

Fall -
it is Raining
And cloudy
