Misunderstood Heroes

I think Supergirl is faced with problems like people who know her powers and people who try to use her or those who try to take her powers from her. In every episode Supergirl's boss says "my coffee is too cold" when Supergirl comes from outside, so that just proves that Supergirl is being used by her boss and when she battles her sister she tries to take all her powers away from her.

Being giving like the ocean

My life is the ocean I am part of every edge of the world. My children feed the world for every little boy and girl. My waves help the boats taking my children to their homes. their people love to swim in me. It brings me joy to see them smile. But when I see hate I make big waves. My water is for you to drink. My children are for you to eat. I give you fun. So give love to others, be giving as me. Be as giving as the ocean!

SC

the sun will always shine the stars will too

the trees will grow and die just like you

We stand to make a change.

We are stronger brave and true.

Here we stand just like you.

You had no right to do what you did.

We were lost, not anymore, you gave us names, you tortured my people.

This is the right story you did the wrong we did the right.

You should be happy we are not here to fight dreams are things in your head

they only come out when you're in bed

so keep them there cause they do come true

Famous

The clouds are famous to the rain. The rain is famous to the ground which knew how to grow before it began.

The tree is famous to the leaves that falls below.

The animals are famous to the forest, more famous to the earth.

The sky is famous to the sun but not when the clouds are gray.

I want to be famous like the wind and sea.

I want to be famous as the sun, moon and stars.

I want to be famous in the way I can do anything to help the earth or to listen and to grow.

Because I love the earth.

SC

My World of Hate

I hate my laugh cause you love it

I hate to look around cause I don't see you

I hate summer cause it was your favorite

I hate to smile

I hate red

I hate when people say your name

I hate to fall asleep cause I have to do it all

SC

Sorry Not Sorry

Inspired by William Carlos Williams

I'm sorry I hate.

I'm sorry I love. I'm sorry I am me.

But, I AM NOT SORRY!

SC

In response to "Wolf Prayer"

Follow me down the path, let's see where it may lead

I'll walk beside you so you don't have to be afraid.

I will guide and show you the way so that you know that we are safe

I will not leave you, so little girl don't feel alone.

If you ever do, you know what to do.

Close your eyes and you will see me, and know that you are home.

SC

I'll Give Her

I'll give Her the Moon and the Sun

I'll give her the Sun that light reaches the Earth

I'll give her the Earth that may sing

I'll give her the Moon that moves around her Earth I'll give her everything.

SC

Should Always

The Earth should sing the same song that takes your breath away.

The Moon should sail the same way as the Sun.

The Sun should sing the same songs as the Earth.

The Moon should go around the Earth for as long as it sings.

The Earth should always have Light.

The Sun should always Shine. The Moon should always Move.

SC

The Way

The Way I Cry

The Way I Lie The Way we Die The Way I Love

Some time has gone

Some time it has been

Sometimes we lost

Sometimes we shared from all the times we loved

From all the times we hated I will always remember the times we had, Good or Bad.

SC

The Way We Love

We love with fear

We love with hurt. We love with pain

We love with all we've got

The way we love is tortured

The way we love is fascinating

The way we love is not our choice. We fall in love. We fall out

The way we love is Falling

SC

Forever

Forever is something we say, Forever does not exist, it's just a fairy tale told to kids.

There is no forever, so give it a rest.

SC

My People

My People are Strong

My People are Here

My People that have died live around me

They Love

They Care, They're Always There

My People are My Family

SC

I Wish

I wish I could be like the wind,

to disappear

To leave everything behind me and to never look back

To float away, away from the happy memories and bad ones

To never feel pain, to never breakdown in tears again

I wish to never feel depressed to never hold a blade to my wrists and legs again

To never pretend to be happy, to never fake a smile again

I wish this pain would go away

To make my demons shut up

forever!

I just want it to go away!

Erasure poem inspired by Amy Leach's "Sail On, little Honeybee"

The relationship between the moon,

The sun and two friends a quarter a mile away.

"Sail on, my little honeybee" sing

The sun to the moon, moon to the sun.

The moon goes around the earth, not perfectly.

While your heavy blue waters heave up and down.

Dear Loneliness,

You are my sadness

You are my depression

When I'm lonely I sit in a corner by myself

You stop me from interacting with others

You make me even lonelier.

Get out of my life!

I don't need you

I choose to talk to people

I choose to not hide.

I will feel better

Without you.

My Life Is Upside Down

I'm a coin spinning in the air,

where will I land?

hanging from the monkey bars,

gets me sick, blood in my head, I can't see.

creeping spiders on the ceiling,

all waiting to drop down on me.

A picture, inverted in its frame, knocked by some battle.

Monster Me

Its good to be me

Because I'm special.

I know people hear me slamming doors and yelling

But I'm kind on the inside.

I slam and yell because no one's listening

Sometimes I'm rude.

Because I don't want people to know how

I feel on the inside.

I want them to think I'm strong and brave and

Not the fragile person I really am.

They say I don't care, that I'm ignoring.

I actually do care, a lot.

I'm just escaping my world in a book.

A world that's better than mine.

In Praise of Dreams
After Wisława Szymborska

In my dreams,

I fell off a cliff and fell into a ditch

I met up with lil Mosey

And we stuck in a dream together

After I pulled off his shirt

I smiled masterfully

I discovered he had no belly button

And I cried so hard that snot came down my nose

I begged the homeless person to take me to rehab

Picture me in a wheelchair

Picture me with other people in wheelchairs

I'm full of gratitude-

When they said I could go back home

Yes, I'm the rehab girl

Who solved her problems

someone is giving me money on the street

Against the world,
That you were once hanging onto by a thread.
And the big,

Who cling to their happiness with all they have.

You once lived.

1st one... The Sky

The sky is full of objects like clouds, different kinds of birds and different types of planes and some rain and thunder, clouds here and there and, above all, airplanes are my favorite objects that rule the sky. Airliners, supersonic jets and light, private aircraft. No matter Which one I write about... THEY rule the sky, No matter what.

2nd one... Airplanes

Airplanes are my favorite object that I like to talk about. If you ask me any question about planes... I will answer it like the flash; like how lift (the force that make a plane get in the air) is made. Air goes over and under the wing, the air under the wing forces the wing upwards and the air over the wing forces it down.

Death

A poem for death,

you are starting to be forgotten,

And one day It will be the last time someone mentions your name,

Against the heaven and hell hanging on the wall in between

And being in the after-life world, naming people who were forgotten

Clinging to the earth waiting in darkness

You are the next getting buried in a cemetery

You are what lies beyond death

And the next million years waiting to be reborn

Remember

Remember the buffalo wings

Known to be tasty, spicy and tendery,

Remember the chicken nuggies which it all is 2% chicken,

Remember your first big-mac

That gave you the runs,

Remember the McDonald sprite

listening to the fizz,

Remember the wind, Remember the cold fries,

Remember you in the McDonald parks,

Remember you are just another client,

Remember...

Buffalo Wings

It's good to be a Buffalo Wing because you can be eaten,
Not made out of buffalo just chicken,
So tasty and tendery in my stomach,
So spicy and savory,
Mix with ranch to relieve the heat,
Suck the bone till its white
But when I poop my butt burns like fire

Invocation
After Marlon Hacla

In the name of the pain, running through my veins.
In the name of the veins, blue like the waves.
In the name of the waves, wet like the rain.
In the name of the rain, when I'm feeling pain.
In the name of pain.
In the name of my name, who had pain in his veins, blue like the waves, wet like the rain, when I'm feeling pain.
In the name of the Children Monster who had no pain, who took children and gave them pain.
In the name of the Children Monster who locked up kids in cages.
In the name of the children monster, who fed on human brains, who lurks around dark corners, to feed itself on living souls...

Darkness

In my dreams,
I feel nothing,
I meet up with darkness,
And we do nothing,
After darkness starts fading,
I wake up alone
I discover light,
and start my day,
Dear Darkness,
I beg staff to go home,
Picture me at my house,
Picture me with my family,
I'm full of gratitude-
When I go home,
Yes I'm one and only Miyim,
Who solved Nothing,
People give me hope-
But it is all pity,
I am just a sorrowful boy,
filled with darkness.

He does not know how to make friends because when he tries usually people start to die

MBR

In my dreams I sleep
then meet within another one then share interests
I find a lot but not the one I want.
I discover that there are dreams beyond imagination but it's all up to belief
I know you might have heard this.
my dreams are my energy for the day

BEFORE THE PEOPLE WHICH WOULD COME BACK FOR THE EARTH IS MORE FAMOUS TO THE WORM

I know you made mistakes, a lot of things you regret you don't know how it feels, all you see is the fame you try to dirty my name, what if you were me and what if I was you? Maybe you'd see what I go through I'm looking up but my sky ain't blue, I just see dark. You say my prayers, I ask for forgiveness. No I'm not perfect. I promise I'll try I promise I'll cry. Sometimes you feel like I'm not even alive. But my heart's still beating. So, you must be tripping. Your father was a ghost but you still wanna forgive him. You know a lot of you can relate to this heart! Cause it came from your heart, just know that I'm not alone. I know a lot of you can relate. We need a help before it's too late. I look in the mirror and you feel the shame. Cause maybe I'm the one that caused myself this pain. I'm so lost. What dose it cost. I wanna feel better. I'm so lost, what dose it cost. To find myself I wanna feel better. Every time I try to smile, I feel so miserable. You used to feel like I was invincible. Do you know what it feels inside when you got nobody? I keep it all inside cause I got nobody to really tell how I feel. And express how it kills. Every moment of your day. And just wanna fly away. I don't know, can somebody tell me now cause the devil's reaching out. Seems like I was the devil in disguise. I'm so lost.

BA

One day we're all born.

But we're all here for a reason whether that be fame be awesome or live a Low-key life.

God put us ALL in this world for a reason.

We can all do good
